

Eurobase International continues to ensure quality with re-certification to the latest version of
ISO 9001

London, UK – 15th July 2009 Eurobase International is pleased to announce its re-certification to the latest version of ISO 9001:2008 and TickIT compliance from BVQI, the certification body of Bureau Veritas. Eurobase International prides itself on its policy of quality to service and product excellence, having now been accredited with ISO certification for 14 years, the most widely recognised international standard for quality management systems.

This ISO 9001:2008 re-certification demonstrates that Eurobase International consistently provides goods and after sale services that meet not only client expectations but comply with applicable regulations. One of the key incentives in obtaining TickIT certification is to ensure the highest levels of market confidence in Eurobase's quality management system through accredited certification bodies for the software sector.

Peter Morgan Hare, Group Operations Director at Eurobase International, commented: "Eurobase takes pride in its reputation as a leading provider of high quality products and customer service which is further enhanced with the re-certification to the latest version of the ISO standards. We underwent a rigorous assessment from independent auditors to achieve this re-certification. It means that our present and future customers can be assured of the high quality and integrity of our products and services. We maintain our own quality management system (QMS) which is under constant review and improvement and, in addition to the internal audits, this is audited every six months by BVQI. We also have our own workflow tool for the management and control of project development and client support which itself contains specific Quality Assurance tasks to ensure the quality of all project associated activities."
