

Eurobase Banking Solutions hires new Technology Director

London, UK – 13th October 2008 - Eurobase Banking Solutions is pleased to welcome Timo Kramer in the newly created position of Technology Director.

Timo joins Eurobase with 15 years' IT experience in software development, consultancy management and business analysis in the financial sector including posts at Deutsche Bank, Dresdner Bank and DWS.

Having qualified with a Masters Degree in Algorithmic Trading and with a background that covers the development of solutions for real time, high frequency, high performance and low latency systems, Timo will apply this expertise to the Siena product suite to further enhance Eurobase's impressive growth in the e-markets.

Commenting on joining Eurobase, Timo said, "I am pleased to be joining such a dynamic company as Eurobase. Having worked in financial markets technology for a number of years I look forward to contributing towards the company's drive for product excellence".

Joe Locke, Banking Operations Director at Eurobase, commented "This new appointment continues the Eurobase policy of hiring the best talent available within the market with specific experience in e-Trading technology. I am certain Timo will provide an excellent addition to our technology team and help underpin and enhance our product offerings".
