

Eurobase Insurance Solutions partners with TriSystems for the delivery of Synergy Gateway

Premier electronic trading solution for the insurance and reinsurance markets worldwide

London, UK – 16th November, 2009: Eurobase Insurance Solutions, a leading independent software and services provider to the worldwide insurance and reinsurance markets, has joined forces with insurance messaging specialists TriSystems. The partnership brings together Eurobase's expertise in underwriting business applications, through its Synergy product suite, and TriSystems' Universal Messaging Gateway, providing organisations with a single point of entry and exit for all electronic data communications.

This new partnership delivers the 'Synergy Gateway', a seamlessly integrated electronic trading solution connecting underwriters with their trading partners via electronic placing, accounting and claims handling across global markets. This straight through processing solution enables an insurance or reinsurance company to offer its distribution network new products and services more quickly and at significantly reduced costs. This will make it more efficient and easier to do business with around the clock.

Maryann Fitzgerald, Sales Director, Eurobase Insurance Solutions, comments, "In an increasingly competitive landscape, insurers are looking to maximise their market share by diversifying their product portfolio and business models through entry into new markets where localised competition may already have the lead. Synergy Gateway levels the playing field for international trading and has been built with extendability in mind. Already successful in the London Market we look forward to international expansion in the electronic trading arena and to working with TriSystems in this pursuit."

Jeff Ward, director of TriSystems, comments, "Eurobase is a well-established and respected international supplier of underwriting solutions and we are delighted to be working closely with them. Through the unique combination of our software and services with theirs, we have a total integrated solution that will ensure system longevity and unrivalled value for money."

Eurobase and TriSystems are pleased to announce that they will be exhibiting the 'Synergy Gateway' at the forthcoming Lloyd's IT service Providers' Trade Fair and the Insurance Day Technology Forum event both of which will be held in London during November.
